

Proposition for high-level professionals :

The competition in the globalised world force the professionals (creators, innovators...) to always find new source of inspiration.

Fashion, dressing design, textiles, accessories... from the Inca culture and the other precolumbian cultures are a very wide source of inspiration

It is the same regarding the cooking products, the tastes, colors, contrasts, dietetical values... of these cultures

Inka Llacta® wants to help the professionnals in several sectors to find the specific elements they are looking for, and invte us to make experimentations on the Archeosite.
